

Town of Watertown ambulance needs volunteers

WATERTOWN, N.Y. -- The town of Watertown Ambulance Service is on its own starting next month, this after a split from the fire department.

The new nonprofit ambulance service has ten members, but needs more. Anyone over the age of 18 can join and their training will be paid for.

The department needs paramedics, basic EMT's and drivers.

"With the change over going from the fire department to the town of Watertown ambulance service the town of Watertown ambulance service does not have the same rigid guidelines so we can go outside. We can go as far as Lowville, Potsdam, Ogdensburg and Oswego to draw in for recruitments," said Kenneth Shean, Emergency Medical Technician.

Thursday at 10 a.m. an interest meeting will be held at the Town of Watertown Fire Department. For more information call (315) 782-3852.
