EMS Week 2009

Children of EMS Drawing Contest

“My EMS Superhero”

Each year during the third week of May, Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Week is celebrated across our nation to acknowledge and thank EMTs and Paramedics for the lifesaving work they do everyday. It is also a time to educate people about EMS and how it influences their lives each day.

For EMS Week 2009, we are holding a drawing contest open to the children of EMS Providers. ‘Children of EMS’ can include children, relatives and friends of EMS Providers who work in NYC. Children must meet age requirements.

Let your children express how they feel about their personal EMS Superhero!

Winners will receive awards during the EMS Awards and Recognition Ceremony on Monday, May 18th at the Offices of the Regional EMS Council, 475 Riverside Drive, Manhattan, and will have their drawings posted on the Regional EMS Council webpage: www.nycremsco.org. We are also planning on using the drawings received in an EMS calendar.

Instructions to enter the drawing contest are attached.

Submission deadline is Monday, May 11th, 2009.

Good luck!
