Explanation

This bylaw amendment will allow the Constitution and Bylaws to be amended without having to wait for an Annual Meeting, while assuring membership participation in the process.

Presently the NYSVARA Constitution and Bylaws can only be amended at an Annual Meeting. One primary reason for this was that in the past there was not a cost effective or less labor-intensive method to employ that would enable and ensure membership participation in the amendment and approval process. Electronic voting methods are now used by most statewide and national organizations to facilitate easy voting and maximize membership voting opportunities.

This amendment allows the Constitution and Bylaws to be amended between meetings when necessary, while assuring that the membership receives notification and retains the right to vote on any proposed changes or revision. It also clarifies the process for proposing amendments or revisions.

The amendment also drops wording about waiving the bylaws, which is enigmatic, not consistent with standard and accepted practices and could lead to potential legal issues.
