Disability Awareness Training

Disability awareness training has tailored a presentation for first responders. It brings together education on disabilities while enhancing sensitivity. The presentation includes definitions, etiquette and interaction skills, the disabled perspective, challenging behaviors, and current trends and topics, all relevant to first responders.

The ability to respond to individuals with disabilities has posed varying challenges to emergency responders. As the population increases and more individuals are active in the community, the need to ensure accurate and appropriate response is critical.

Join Drew Fried, EMT-B/CIC and Richard Robinson, EMT-P/CIC as they discuss the varying aspects of dealing with people with disabilities.

This course may be applied toward Special Patient Populations or General Elective CME hours under the NY State DOH EMS Continuing Education Recertification Program.
