First Responder Training on
Field Response to Suspected Synthetic Opioid Threats

Date: Monday – July 16, 2018          Time: 18:30 – 20:30

Maynard Fire Department

Station #1

9500 Maynard Drive

Marcy, NY 13403

Course Objectives

Provide first responder partners with critical information to evaluate, triage, and safely decontaminate equipment and personnel in contact with unknown substances suspected of containing synthetic opioids.

Course Trainer

Alan Antenucci, All Hazards Training Coordinator from the Biodefense and Chemical Terrorism Laboratories of the New York State Department of Health Wadsworth Center.

Course Outline

- Overview of natural, semi-synthetic and synthetic opioids.
- Overview of the synthetic opioid family.
- Field Response-
- Risks associated with opioid threats
- Response planning
- Scene assessment
- Victim triage
- Victim, responder an equipment decontamination

All students must pre-register to japearl18@gmail.com – so we can have a head count.

Any EMS providers will also be able to get two hours CMEs.