Where: Oxford Fire Department
When: Monday Dec. 2nd 2019 at 19:00 hrs
Instructor: NYS Fire Instructor James Shine

Pre-Registration is required by visiting our web page at www.chenangofireems.com and clicking on the training icon.

Description: Every year dozens of people in the United States commit suicide using various types of hazardous materials, and too often first responders become exposed to these chemicals. This course is designed to give all first responders the skill set necessary to identify a suicide involving hazardous materials, safely approach the incident using appropriate personal protective equipment, and manage the scene successfully.

Course length: 2 hours
Designed for: All first response personnel