The New York State Aide to Localities funding that supports EMT training has been stagnant for many years. Course sponsors that provide EMT training are struggling to continue training EMTs, as course costs have continued to increase and have not been matched by corresponding funding increases.

The Finance Committee of the New York State EMS Council is reviewing reimbursement rates for EMS Training Courses. We would appreciate your assistance.

If your organization were to recoup the full cost of teaching courses in 2020, without receiving State reimbursement, how much would you need to charge for each of the following courses, per enrolled student:

Student incurred fees include, but are not limited to, text books, lab fees, and on-line content fees.

When considering total course costs, please consider all expenses that may not currently be considered reimbursable. For example, travel expenses for instructors and instructor preparation time.
