Why Mental Health First Aid?

Mental Health First Aid for Fire/EMS teaches you how to identify, understand and respond to signs of mental illnesses and substance use disorders. This 8-hour training gives you the skills you need to reach out and provide initial support to someone who may be developing a mental health or substance use problem and help connect them to the appropriate care. It focuses on the unique experiences and needs of firefighters and EMS personnel and is a valuable resource that can make a difference in their lives, their coworkers' and families' lives, and the communities they serve.

A survey of 7,000 North American firefighters revealed 27% have struggled with substance use issues.

In 2017, 103 firefighters died by suicide; more than the 93 firefighters who died in the line of duty.

A discussion of first responder culture, stigma and their relevance to the topic of mental health.

Outreach tactics to respond to individuals experiencing a mental health crisis.

A discussion of the specific risk factors faced by many first responders and their families.

A review of common mental health resources for first responders, their families and those who support them.
